SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1950

VOL. 59 — No. 49

Observations...

By the Editor

The local Boy Scouts will sell tags for you to place on your car, with the inscription "Attend YOUR Church on Sunday", this Saturday and Sunday. The price of the tags will be $1.00. The Scouts will be at the church to raise funds for their troops through this method, and in addition, they will materially aid in making people conscious of their duty to their God. In these perilous days we should realize the great need of prayer, and attendance at your church will help create a greater love of God and develop a tendency to pray.

Santa Claus is coming to Town Saturday. He will arrive at the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Station, at 1:45 p.m. and from there he will go to Kern's 5 and 10 on Main Street. Bring the kiddies around to see Santa, and he will give them a warm welcome.

Have you made your contribution to the Brother Peter Christmas Tree Fund? You have an opportunity to make some underprivileged youngster happy, if you will only send your contribution to Brother Alexis, President of St. Stanislaus.

Talking about contributions, would you be interested in a drive to raise funds for the building of a tennis court at the Youth Center. This is one of their much needed projects. It can be done if all hands will join together. We certainly can afford to make an investment in our boys and girls. If you feel you can aid this worthy project send your contributions to Mrs. Betty Nobles, Director of the Youth Center, or to Gerald Gex, Treasurer of the Teen Age Club.

Wm. Thibaux, popular young proprietor of Wilmer's Grocery and Market has started an innovation in Bay St. Louis. He will give two cases of Libby's Baby Food, one dozen diapers and 12 bars of Ivory Soap to the first baby born at the Kings Daughters Hospital in the New Year. Other local merchants can join Wilmer, and perhaps, the first youngster of 1951 will receive a plentiful supply of many needed articles. Remember boys, this is good advertising.

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chew lost their game in the Cypress Bowl at Luther last Sunday. They were defeated by Terrebonne High School by a score of 26-6. Everyone hated to see the youngsters go down to defeat, following one of their most successful seasons in many years. We want to again congratulate the members of the team and their coaches for the success they attained this season.

Wives of members of the Volunteer Waveland Fire Department have called a meeting for December 14, for the organization of an Auxiliary. This organization should be encouraged. The department should be complimented for the splendid work they have been doing in their town. Waveland needs more fire protection, and the present volunteer department may be the nucleus of a real department in the future.

"One of our good friends sent us the following clipping from an Irish newspaper: 'The editor wheeled his chair around and pushed a button on the wall. The person wanted entered.' 'Here said the editor, 'are a number of directions from out-jerkers as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are all carried out. And the office boy, gathering them all into a wastepaper basket, carried them out.'"

Plan To Organize Fire Department Auxilliary Dec. 14

Plans to form an Auxiliary to the Waveland Volunteer Fire Department were made Friday evening. The Fire department has played an outstanding part in putting out the brush fires which have imperiled the whole town, that the ladies decided to form an auxiliary to aid and encourage the fire-fighters.

Mesdames Ed P. Phillips, Richard Noonan, Al. Landers, Wallace Bourgeois, Peter Monroe and Ernest Samuel, met at Mrs. Phillips home to discuss the possibility of forming such an organization. Each of the ladies present promised to bring ten of her friends to an organization meeting to be held Thursday evening, December 14, at 8:00 o'clock in the Waveland Town Hall. Officers will be elected, and plans for a benefit ball will be made. The object of the proposed auxiliary is strictly fun and finance. Residents of Waveland, Lakeview and Clermont Harbor are invited to participate in the group's activities.

Local Resident Victim Of Robbery In Pass

22 Teachers Receive Audio-Visual Diploma

Twenty-two Hancock County teachers have received their certificates from Mississippi College, Hattiesburg for having satisfactorily completed the course offered by the college in Audio-Visual education. They were Mesdames E. E. Breland and Jeanne D. Williams, Gulf View School; Mesdames J. E. Erwin, H. Grady Perkins, Celine Ashcraft, Claborn Ladner and Warren Traub, Miss Luvenia Sauder, Miss Pauline Russ, S. J. Ingram and J. T. Broadus of Bay City Schools; Miss Mary Perkins, Waveland; Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. S. Ruth-erford, Aaron Academy; Mrs. S. J. Ingram, Mrs. Mazarakis, Clermont Harbor; Mrs. H. H. Squires, Misses Joel Quintini and Gloria Martin, Percy Garriga and M. Stevens, Kihn High, Miss Olevia Keller, Gainsville. In addition to these in the class were Mrs. Elliott Casanova Sr., and Miss M. Mitchell, who are not teachers in this county.

The classes were held at Bay High School under the direction of Dr. G. E. Oliver of Mississippi Southern College. At the close of the work Thursday night, Mr. Oliver was complimented with a turkey dinner prepared by and served in the Home Economics department of the school. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jeanne Williams, Anne Kenmar, Ann Herbert and Marion Nell Breland.

P T A Mardi Gras Committee Meets

Mrs. George Horton over-all chairman for the Mardi Gras celebration sponsored annually by the Central School P.T.A. called a meeting at her home Friday evening for the 1951 Mardi Gras. There were discussions and plans promoted; foundation was laid for this year's turnout. At a later date the committees will be appointed.

This year, the fourth carnival, will carry out the theme of Nursery Rhymes. Each room in Bay High is privileged to enter a float, in the parade Mardi Gras Day. The morning entertainment will consist of a "Block Dance" held near the high school building. The parade will start at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Horton asks that all civic minded citizens rally to the cause and make this a bigger and better Mardi Gras.

ASK FOR BLOOD FOR MILITARY

The Pass Christian Women's Civic League met Tuesday evening at the Miramar Hotel to hear Col. Roy Haggerty, in his address to the group, stress the vital need for generous blood donations at this particular time, for the military in Korea.

Col. Haggerty is in charge of the Pass Christian and the rural areas and has made plans for the blood mobile to be in the Pass on January 16th, between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., at the Pass Christian public school gymnasium.

The league is urging donors to make arrangements to visit the blood mobile on this date with the thought in mind that a portion of the donations will remain in this section of the Coast for emergency use and the remainder will be a primary factor in saving the lives of many of our service men.

Plans were completed for the Christmas decoration contest being sponsored by the league. The contest will be divided into five classifications: doorway, picture window, outdoor tree, outdoor decoration, and business house.

C of C Sponsors Xmas Light Program

Robert L. Hamilton was re-appointed chairman of the street lighting committee at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Friday night. Mr. Hamilton was in charge of the Christmas lighting program last year.

It was brought out at the meeting that little if any, new material will be needed this season, with the exception of a few colored bulbs. From last year's fund,

F. J. Lizana, a resident of Bay St. Louis, was robbed at his place of business in Pass Christian Tuesday, December 5, between 7:00 and 7:15 p.m. Herman Finhold, a member of Pass Christian police force was called to investigate.

TAKES $168.01
A young man entered the store, commented on the weather then pulled a gun on Mr. Lizana, Finhold said. He ordered Mr. Lizana to back up against the wall, and took $168.01 from the register.

After taking the money, he made Mr. Lizana sit down on a chair and told him that he would not kill him if he would stay in the chair for ten minutes. The culprit left with the money and a carton of cigarettes.

Mr. Lizana stated that he remained there for fifteen minutes before notifying the police. He also said that people were walking by the store and looking in, yet no one noticed that he was standing there behind the counter with both hands held in the air at gun point.

Officer Finhold described the fugitive as having blond hair, between the ages of 21 and 23; he was wearing a black shirt and brown pants.

REMAINS CALM
Mr. Lizana said that the thief was perfectly calm during the entire robbery and did not seem nervous even when people walked in front of the store.

The investigating officer said that the police department received a report that three men were seen earlier in the afternoon in a 1950 Ford with a taxi sign on it bearing a Georgia plate. An employee of the City Cafe said that one of the men flashed a gun in the restaurant.

Police forces along the Coast have been alerted in an effort to apprehend the fugitives.

Rotarians Present Forum On Korea

The Pass Christian Rotary Club met Tuesday noon at the Miramar Hotel with President, Dr. C. D. Taylor, Sr., presiding. J. Walters Terrell was program chairman for the week and presented a forum on the Korean affair. The affirmative side of the forum was represented by Donald DeMetz, Robert DeMetz and H. Wittmann; and the negative by Dr. Charles D. Taylor, Jr., Dr. Ed. Gamard, and Rand Jones. Judges of the winners of the forum were Rev. Walter S. Allen, Willis G. Clark and Jas. F. Fitzwillson. Dr. Taylor, Sr., stated that the negotiators won, but that as publicity chairman, he would declare it a "no contest," because of the wonderful presentation of both sides.

Visiting Rotarians were Mr. Lynn Page, a Rotary member of the Greene, New York Club, who has purchased the Clyde McLean property at No. 6 West End Road. The new high school Rotarians for the month of December are Gene Rogers, of St. Joseph's school, and Robert Walman of Pass Christian High School.

Lieut. Crane Fitzwillson, son of Rotarian Jas. F. Fitzwillson, who is stationed in New Orleans, Louisiana, was a guest at the dinner program.

Brother Walter Allen reported that the Christmas show has been arranged for the youngsters for the Saturday before Christmas eve at the Avalon.

The Rotary is appealing to the public for Christmas donations to the Doll and Toy Fund, to make this a Merry Christmas for the young citizens of our town.

There was a directors meeting of the Rotary Club this week, held in the home of Director C. E. Spence.

additional wire and sockets have been purchased in order to make the community brighter than ever. Last year labor was donated by the different local electrical shops, the Mississippi Power Company and the Coast Electric Power Association; and Howard W. LeTissier, president of the Chamber of Commerce said it was thought that the same co-operation will be available this year.

Garfield Ladner Is Sworn In As Mayor Of Waveland

Hundreds of devout Catholics attended the Eucharistic Conference at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church Wednesday, November 29. The crowd was one of the largest to ever attend a conference in this diocese. Shown above at the Solemn Pontifical Mass is Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, who was celebrant. Rev. Josiah G. Chatham, J. C. D., chose the Blessed Eucharist as the subject of his sermon.

Postponed Flea-Fly Game Set For Dec. 10

Xmas Tree Donations Are Arriving Slowly

Only $49.50 has been donated for the benefit of the Brother Peter Christmas Tree fund.

Local residents and others interested in this worthy cause are asked to make some contribution to the fund; that dollar may make some underprivileged child a little happier Christmas day to think that he has been remembered.

Brother Alexis, S. C., chairman of the drive asks that all contributions be made as early as possible; arrangements have to be made to secure the necessary toys, candy and fruit.

George E. Johnson Dies December 3rd

George Edward Johnson Sr., a resident of Waveland for the last three years died at Hotel Dieu Sunday, December 3, at 9:00 a.m. Mr. Johnson, 69, was a native of Niagara Falls, New York; he had resided in New Orleans for 50 years. The deceased had owned a home in Waveland for some time, and came only for weekends, until he became a permanent resident; he was associated with the Water and Sewerage Board in New Orleans.

Funeral services were held Monday, December 4, at 9:00 a.m. followed by Requiem Mass at St. Stephen's Church in New Orleans at 9:30 a.m. Interment was in St. Joseph cemetery Number 1.

He is survived by his wife, Ottilia Schwartz Johnson; his sons, Albert Edward, George Edward Jr., Joseph James and Jerome John Johnson; his daughters, Mrs. Thomas E. Gernon, Mrs. Milton E. Ragusa, Mrs. Lester H. Arbo, Mrs. James W. Trout and Sister Stephanie Johnson (Sisters of Charity Order) of San Francisco, California; seventeen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Garden Club Has Lighting Contest

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club will sponsor its annual Christmas lighting contest. Prizes will be awarded for the best doorway decoration; the best porch tree; best outdoor growing tree; and this year another prize has been added for the most outstanding outdoor decoration.

The great Flea and Fly Classic will get under way Sunday afternoon promptly at 2 o'clock. Present plans call for a parade from the Campus to the playing field. The drums will roll out at 1:15 for the line-up and all those who wish to participate in the parade will report at the Campus not later than one o'clock.

AIDS XMAS TREE FUND
As usual, all gate receipts from this game will go to the Brother Peter Memorial Christmas Tree Fund. Last year the total gate from sales of tickets amounted to almost nine hundred dollars. The boys hope to top that figure this year.

It helps materially in the purchase of happiness for deserving youngsters of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County, who will participate in the distribution of toys for the white children December 22 and the colored on December 23. This will mark the 34th Annual meeting between the tiny miles of Bay St. Louis for supremacy. Last year the Fleas won by a score of 35 to 33. From that figure, anyone interested can realize that these little fellows really know what the game is about, and go about it in a business way to garner as many touchdowns as possible.

The kids have a grand time for the periods they play. The spectators have some good laughs at times. At others they will be amazed and astonished that such mighty-mites can maneuver a ball so skillfully and snap passes with the best of the teams that have ever played on the Stanislaus field. The team is divided into three groups in accordance with size and age. They use all the various formations seen on the football fields throughout the United States. You are likely to see one group use the T-formation, another the single wing-back, another a variation of the T-formation or even the double-wing. They have all been trained in their particular formation and all should give a pretty good account of themselves.

Fleas and Flies have been working hard for the past several weeks to obtain coordination and timing of their intricate and complicated plays. Signals have been drilled into each team, and every group has kept its best plays as secret as possible.

The game will be divided into six "quarters" to enable every group to get into the game twice. There will be no half time program, but the Saint Stanislaus Band will furnish music for the occasion.

DIRECTOR AND ASSISTANTS
Brother Rian is the directing influence for the Fleas and Flies this year. He is ably assisted by Brothers Virgil, Alberic, Canisius, Raphael, Lee and Martial.

TO PRESENT TROPHY
Harold B. Weston and his son, John, will make the award to the winning team at the close of the game.

Bro. Alexis Attends Education Meeting

Brother Alexis, S. C. president of St. Stanislaus College, attended a convention of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools from December 3 to 7, at Richmond, Virginia.

The purpose of this convention was to review the standards of the member schools; iron out any difficulties or misunderstandings which should arise; and to meet school men from eleven southern states.

Brother Alexis will attend a meeting of the Southern Regional of the National Catholic Educational Association December 7 and 8. He is among the many Catholic school principals and teachers from all the Southern states present to discuss their particular problems.

Three S S C Students Picked For Band Clinic

Three members of the St. Stanislaus band have been chosen for the Mississippi Band Clinic at Greenville December 7, 8 and 9. Jimmy Williams, bass; Henry Capdepon, baritone sax; and Larry Scharff, clarinet, are the students selected.

Two fully instrumented, ninety piece bands make up the clinic. One consists of musicians from high schools designated as "CC" and lower; and the other is composed of band members from schools with classifications higher than "CC". These bands are known as the Blue and Gray Bands, respectively.

This year the clinic band members will have a tryout for positions in their respective sections. This makes the positional placements depend entirely on talent and merit rather than years in band.

David Hughes, Associate Professor of Music at Jordan Conservatory, Indianapolis, Indiana, will be guest-conductor at the three day band festival. H. H. Rennie, director of the Greenville High School Band, is the clinic chairman.

The boys and girls in the clinic bands represent the eighty-two active high school bands in Mississippi. During their stay in Greenville, they will be housed in private homes.

Logtown Eastern Star To Meet

The secretary of the Eastern Star in Logtown reports that there will be an important meeting of that organization December 12 in the Hall. All members are urged to be present.

McLemore Speaks to Hancock County Southern Alumni

Dr. R. A. McLemore, dean of Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, was the principal speaker at the organization meeting of former Mississippi Southern students Tuesday evening, December 5, at 7:30 in the Bay St. Louis High School cafeteria.

Officers elected were Mrs. L. A. Rogers, president; J. T. Broadus vice president; and Miss Madge Allred, secretary.

O. N. Darby, secretary of the Alumni Association and a member of the faculty at Southern, addressed the group on the objectives of the Alumni. Dr. McLemore gave an exposition on the history, development and present program of the college.

A chicken supper was served in the luncheon by Mrs. Elizabeth Becker, luncheon supervisor, and Mrs. J. E. Erwin, homemaking department instructor.

S. J. Ingram, superintendent of Bay St. Louis schools was host for the meeting; assisting Mrs. Ingram with local plans were T. J. Broadus and Bennie Ray Nobles, both of the high school faculty.

Accompanying Dr. McLemore were M. M. Pope, Jr., Hattiesburg attorney and Mr. Darby. Approximately twenty graduates of M. S. C. were present.

William Edward Case, 73, died Sunday, December 3, at 4:00 a. m. Mr. Case had been visiting friends and relatives here for two months.

A native of Iowa, Mr. Case was a retired engineer for an electrical power plant. His home was in Pensacola, Florida.

Funeral services were held Monday, December 4, at 10:00 a. m. from the Fahey Funeral Home with religious services conducted by Rev. R. L. Lee, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment was in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Mr. Case, the son of the late Joseph and Sarah Case, is survived by his son and daughter, Cecil C. and Elva Case, of Pensacola, Florida.

Brother Of Local Resident Expires

Funeral services for Charles A. Thierry were held in New Orleans Saturday, December 2 at 9 a. m. with a requiem mass at St. Mathias church. Interment was in Metairie cemetery.

Mr. Thierry died at his home in New Orleans after a short illness. He was a native of Bay St. Louis, but had made his home in New Orleans for more than 50 years. His mother was the former Miss Marie Reusch, a sister of the late Mrs. Hugo Hoffman. His father was the late Charles A. Thierry. Surviving are his wife, nee Sophie E. Dillman, a former resident of this city; two sons, Charles J. and Jerod A. Thierry; two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Nicotia and Ethlyn Traylor; two brothers, Nicholas J. Thierry of New Orleans and Anthony E. Thierry of Bay St. Louis; and seven grandchildren. Six of his nephews acted as pallbearers.

Going from Bay St. Louis for the funeral were his nieces, Mrs. Henry Lang, Mrs. Joseph Favre and Mrs. L. P. Koerner, Mrs. Elizabeth Boudin and Mrs. Louise Hobbs.

INDUCTION FOLLOWS ELECTION

The induction into office of the Waveland officers followed the general election held Tuesday. The results of the election were: Mayor Garfield Ladner, 95 votes; Fred Bourgeois, Marshall and Tax Collector, 94 votes; Willie Bourgeois Jr. Treasurer, 93 votes; J. A. Wein-furter, 7 votes; William Bourgeois, 34; Anthony Bourgeois, 38; R. G. Hubbard, 14.

Members of the Democratic Executive Committee received the following votes: Mrs. Grace Ann Bordages, 91; Mrs. Fred Bourgeois, 84; Allen Carver, 92; Mrs. Mary Moran, 93; and Walter Yarborough, 92.

Baptist Brotherhood Has Ladies Banquet

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church held its annual ladies night banquet in the church annex Monday evening.

A committee composed of Mesdames Homer Gregory, Otis Ramsey, Alfred Cosselich, M. J. Ne-casse and D. M. Russell were responsible for the turkey dinner.

Kenneth Whitfield, Brotherhood president, presided at the meeting, and the program was in charge of M. L. Hill. After the singing of sacred songs Mr. Hill presented Dr. Roland G. Leavelle, president of the Baptist Theological seminary in New Orleans, who was guest speaker.

Dr. Leavelle spoke on this half century's miracles. He recalled as a child how, for the first time, he saw the light bulb, water coming from a pipe, the telephone and other modern inventions, and said that to him these were miracles. He said that today the greatest miracle in his opinion was the far reaching influence of the Christian dollar; he gave detailed statements of the work of Southern Baptists reaching to the far corners of the earth.

Guests of the brotherhood were Rev. and Mrs. Burkin Oliver of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Whitfield of Picayune.

W. E. CASE, 73, Football Banquet DIES ON DEC. 3 Set For Dec. 19

The Saint Stanislaus Sideline Club will sponsor the annual football banquet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, December 19, in the school dining hall.

Coach Henry Frnka of Tulane University will be guest speaker. Coach Frnka has consented to be with the boys that evening if duties do not prevent his attendance.

At the banquet awards will be given the Stanislaus team of 1950. The squad has hung up an enviable record for the season. They won six, lost two and tied one.

Leo Kenney, president of the Sideline Club will preside at the banquet as toastmaster. Following the banquet officers for the ensuing year for the club will be elected.

Develop County By Buying At Home

There are only a few days left for you to do your Christmas shopping, and from all indications many folks have not, as yet, started this task. If you have not, give some consideration to your local merchants. We are certain you may secure the merchandise you wish here at home, and at prices as reasonable as elsewhere.

Often times, we hear people say they are unable to get the quality of merchandise at home, at the right prices. These folks are just kidding themselves, and have not taken the trouble to check with their local merchant. Our stores carry high quality articles, many of which are at prices standard throughout the country. With equality of prices and materials we owe it to ourselves and our community to deal at home.

Your businessmen are the backbone of your community, and they should be encouraged in their endeavors. They pay their proportionate share of the taxes; they contribute to all civic enterprises; and they are striving to carry the merchandise you need. In addition thereto, their places of business are a credit to a city the size of Bay St. Louis.

The records of the money orders issued by the Bay St. Louis post office for the month of November show a total of $25,841.32. An astounding figure. The greater portion of this amount was for purchases which could have been made at home; and too, add to this figure the number of checks issued for purchases made elsewhere.

Many times people are lured by the prices advertised on certain articles, and right away feel they are getting something cheap. Add to this price, the postage, money order charges, etc., and then check your local prices. You will soon realize it is cheaper to buy at home.

By buying at home we are helping to develop bigger and better merchants, which will eventually mean a bigger and better Hancock County. Mail order houses and merchants away from Bay St. Louis lend nothing to the development of your County.

F. Simerville Discusses The Red Cross Policies

Francis Simerville, Red Cross representative from National headquarters met with the Hancock County Chapter executive board Thursday night, November 30, for a discussion of American Red Cross policies and procedures. In the informal meeting, the main topics discussed were the blood program, Red Cross part in Civil Defense and the 1951 fund campaign.

WOMEN VOTERS CLOSE STUDIES

Three meetings were held by the Provisional League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis last week at the home of Mrs. E. C. Samuel, in order to clear up the League's calendar for the year.

The United Nations study group met Wednesday afternoon; the board met Thursday; and the Federal Budget study group met Friday afternoon. Mrs. C. C. McDonald talked on the structure and functions of the United Nations, especially in the light of the present crisis in Korea. The group will meet again January 11 at 8:00 p. m. in the Youth Center, when Mrs. J. C. Crane will be the guest speaker. At the board meeting to be held the evening of January 11, the U. N. study group will introduce Mrs. Crane who will speak and show pictures of Korea. This meeting will be open to the public.

Mrs. Samuel, president, reported for Miss Elsa Mauffray, vice-chairman of the finance drive; she announced that $30 had been collected, and several more checks promised.

Mrs. George Leightner, at the meeting of the Federal Budget study group, gave a clear and informative report on how the budget is arrived at and adopted.

Gives Farewell Dinner

A farewell dinner was given recently by Miss Audrey Poolson at the home of her parents in honor of her brother, Jerry, who left for the Army November 29.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poolson, Sr., Mrs. B. Creel, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marango, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gay-out, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poolson, Jr., Patricia Poolson, Miss Jo Ann Anderson, Mrs. Ben La-porte and Harold Bragg.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARIES PLAN PARTY FOR YOUTH

The Womens Auxiliary of Christ Church Episcopal, Chapters I and II held its annual joint meeting at the Episcopal Parish house Tuesday afternoon, December 5. Hostesses were Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. F. J. Trastour Jr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter. The devotional was read by Mrs. George Leightner.

Rev. Charles Johnson, rector, talked on Guide of the Christ Child explaining the meaning, work and responsibility of leaders.

Reports were given by the department heads and yearly reports on chapters I and II were given by their presidents, Mrs.

E. P. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Don McCullough, to the effect that this had been a most successful year.

The date for the annual church supper was set for January 18, 1951, in the Parish House.

Mrs. Harold B. Weston reported on Youth Work; it was decided to have a Christmas party for the youth group. Rev. Johnson closed the meeting with prayer.

Money Available For Direct Loans

Chauncey Camp, Regional Office Manager of the Veterans Administration Office in Jackson, Mississippi states that there is still money available for VA direct loans to those veterans who have been unable to secure a GI loan to purchase or construct a home or to build or improve a farm house on land owned by the veteran. These loans are available for the entire State of Mississippi except the thirteen larger towns and their immediate surroundings where 4% financing is available through National or private investors who usually make these loans. These direct loans do not apply to business or farm equipment. Neither do they apply to the purchase of farm land.

Mr. Camp stated that if a veteran owned a farm that was mortgaged and he wanted to build or improve a farm house that the amount of his loan for that purpose would be sufficient to release part of the farm land from the existing mortgage so that the farm home site would be covered only by the VA mortgage.

Veterans who are interested in this type loan should write direct to the Loan Guaranty Officer, Veterans Administration, Jackson, Mississippi, or call personally at any one of the seventeen VA Contact Offices throughout the State of Mississippi. These seventeen Contact Offices are located at Biloxi VA Center, Clarksdale, Columbus, Greenville, Grenada, Gulfport (downtown), Gulfport VA Hospital, Hattiesburg, Kosciusko, Laurel, McComb, Meridian, Natchez, Pascagoula, Tupelo and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

To qualify for a direct loan the applicant must be a veteran of World War II or an unmarried widow of such veteran. The full loan guaranty entitlement must be available, the property must be located in an eligible area, the property must be a single residential unit, and the veteran must have sufficient income to meet the payments on the amount of loan applied for. The purchase price or cost to the veteran must not exceed the reasonable value as established by a Veterans Administration appraisal. The veteran will be required to deposit with his application an appraisal fee and $3.00 to cover credit report. The veteran will be required to make a down payment under applicable credit restrictions depending on the purchase price. There is a time limit on these direct loans and no direct loans can be closed after June 30, 1951; therefore, veterans who are interested should make their plans as soon as possible.

Honor Daughter On 14th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Monti entertained at a birthday dance at the teen-age club Friday evening, December 1, complimentary to their young daughter, Jeanette Monti.

About 50 boys and girls attended the dance. The birthday cake was formed in the shape of a 14.

117 Pedestrians Killed In 1949

"Last year in Mississippi, 117 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents and another 681 were injured—some of them very seriously. Who was to blame?"

These facts, and the question they pose, according to Col. T. B. Birdsong are the reasons behind the Patrol's current traffic safety education program.

"Multiply the number of pedestrian deaths last year by the number of towns our size in the country and you'll see why this business of doing something to save those who must walk along our roads or streets is no academic problem with those of us who abhor death—especially unnecessary death!" Col. Birdsong said.

The irony of the pedestrian fatality program, according to the Patrol, is that nearly two out of three pedestrians killed each year have no one to blame but themselves. They are the ones who use the roadway incorrectly, inviting death.

The most common unsafe pedestrian acts, according to the National Safety Council, are crossing between intersections and crossing against the light.

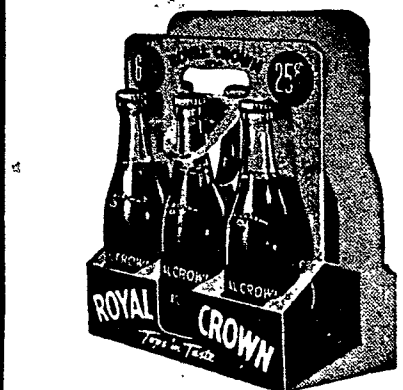

"Nearly one-half of the pedestrians who are killed in the city each year," Col. Birdsong said, "are crossing between intersections, from behind parked cars, walking in the roadway, playing or lying in the roadway, playing or lying in the roadway. With such a widespread disregard for their own lives, it is any wonder pedestrians kill themselves off with such amazing regularity."

Mrs. L. Rutherford Honored at Shower

Mrs. John Rutherford, Jr., was hostess at a stork shower complimentary to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lynn Rutherford.

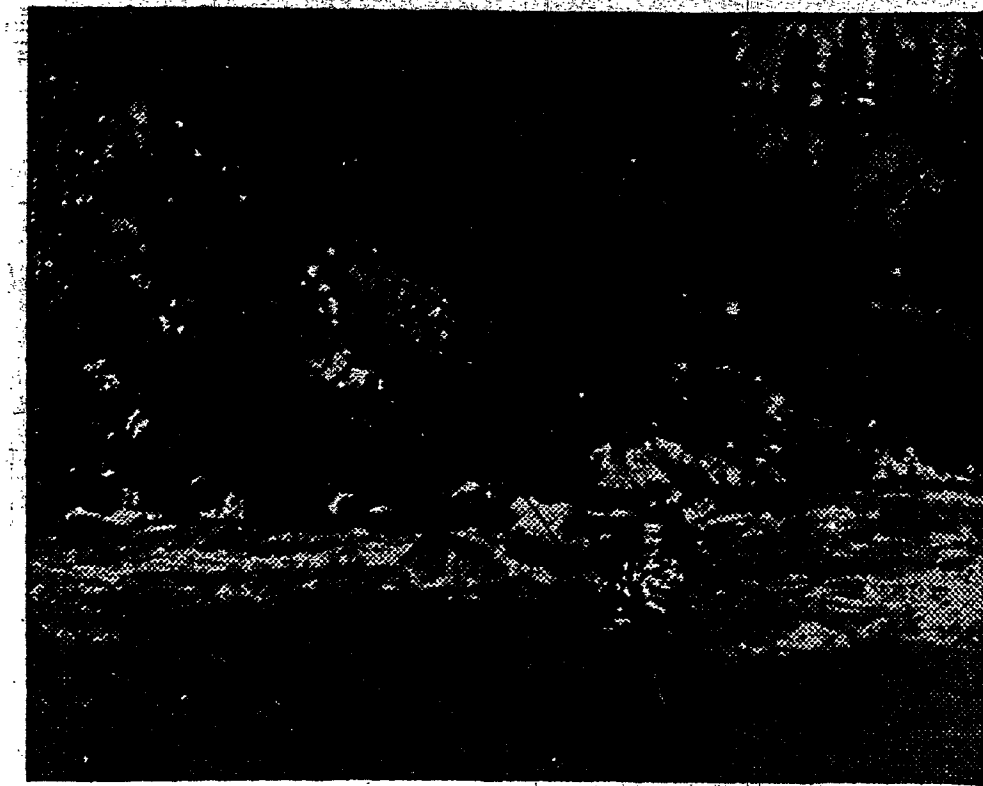

When the honoree entered she was presented with a corsage of white carnations and seated at a large table where the gifts were placed. The color scheme of pink and blue was carried out in decorations.

Green Forests Are Her Heritage

This girl is fishing for trout. Vacation spots like this, many located on Tree Farms, are used and enjoyed by millions of Americans every year. Forests, when protected from fire, yield valuable products for man's welfare. They also provide watersheds that assure ample supplies of water for cities, towns and farms.

Names March Of Dimes Committee

The names of thirty-six (36) member State March of Dimes Advisory Committee were released today by Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Health Officer, who is serving his thirteenth year as State March of Dimes Chairman. The 1951 March of Dimes Campaign is scheduled January 15-31.

In announcing the Advisory Committee membership, Dr. Underwood said, "In my efforts as a volunteer on behalf of this worthy cause, I have enjoyed the enthusiastic support and hard work of thousands of volunteers throughout the State. The results of our united efforts in terms of service to polio patients are most gratifying. Mississippi now has two modern polio treatment hospitals in Vicksburg and all of our patients are assured of adequate hospital and medical care. The March of Dimes has made this possible without the necessity of imposing a financial hardship on anyone."

This year has brought the largest number of polio cases ever recorded in a single year in Mississippi, according to Dr. Underwood. By the end of November, 375 cases had been reported.

The March of Dimes Advisory Committee will assist Dr. Underwood in planning and directing campaign activities in the State. The committee is composed of the following:

A spokesman for the Bell Telephone Companies today told the House Ways and Means Committee that companies whose earnings are permanently regulated by Governmental Authority are prevented already from making "excess profits and therefore any excess profits tax should not apply to them."

Fred J. Turner, Vice President of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., represented the Bell Companies in hearings, being conducted by the committee, on such a tax. He declared an excess profits tax as now proposed would be for the telephone companies, in reality a tax on less than normal profits.

Mr. Turner emphasized that the companies were fully mindful of their responsibility to pay their full share of taxes. He asked, however, that consideration be given to the fact that telephone companies' earnings were unusually low during the proposed base period of 1946-1947.

"Profit regulation, through price fixing by Federal, State, and local Governmental authorities is a normal state of affairs with the telephone companies," Mr. Turner said, "and not merely a temporary or emergency condition made necessary by the stress of war."

He pointed out that this regulation—even though recognizing that earnings were and still are inadequate—is a slow process. Consequently, telephone company earnings have lagged during the post-war years behind those of non-regulated businesses which can raise prices immediately to cover increased costs.

"The invested capital" method of computing excess profits in combination with the 45 per cent income tax rate, would allow earnings of only about 34 per cent on total capital, before the excess profits tax would begin to apply, he said.

Mr. Turner declared that such legislation might "impair" the ability of the telephone companies to fully and promptly meet the communication needs of the Armed Forces. Rural telephone construction also would be hard hit.

"It necessarily follows," he said, "that in any such curtailment of activities, hundreds of thousands of people needing and demanding telephone service must be forced to wait until sometime in the indefinite future when the tax laws are changed to permit earnings that will permit capital additions."

The only alternative to slashing its construction program, he said, would be to go to the various state regulator commissions for further rate increases. These increases would have to be in the ratio of "four to seven dollars for each dollar that earnings have been reduced by the excess profits tax."

Mr. Turner said that if Congress decided that an excess profits tax must be generally applicable to all corporations, then some measure should be adopted which would not preclude regulated telephone companies from earning a fair return after taxes. Otherwise, he said, "we would be compelled to curtail drastically the provision of facilities to meet the demands of an expanding economy."

The company spokesman outlined five improvements in the proposed excess profits tax which he said would minimize inequities of the previous law for all taxpayers.

He said the changes also would afford protection to the earnings of regulated business up to the level considered necessary to attract capital from investors for construction.

Wanted: County's Outstanding Man

WANTED: Hancock County's most outstanding young man of 1950.

The Mississippi State Junior Chamber of Commerce reports that while 16 young men from throughout the state have been nominated to receive its annual "Outstanding Young Man" award for 1950, no entries have been received from Hancock County.

Emmett Reese, Lexington, state chairman for this annual Jaycee project, issued an appeal this week for local leaders to "look over" the young leadership of the county and submit entries not later than December 17th.

Any young man between the ages of 21 and 36 is eligible for nomination.

"Nomination in itself is recognition by the community of the outstanding civic consciousness and leadership ability of its young men," Reese stated. He added that nomination for this state award is one way of recognizing them and encouraging other young men to become leaders. Nomination blanks may be secured by writing the State Jaycees, P. O. Box 1201, Jackson. A statewide banquet will be held in Jackson on January 27th in honor of the winner who will be announced at that time.

Of 80,370 fires on protected forest acreage in the U.S., people caused 73,949 and lightning only 6,421.

America has 654 million acres of land which needs protection from fire. Most of this is tree-growing land. Joined in one tract, it would stretch from San Francisco to New York in a belt 408 miles wide.

This land is America's lifeline! Protected from fire and managed wisely, it will produce the wood we need, provide our watersheds, and furnish recreation areas for millions of Americans.

Each year fires burn over an average of 30 million acres of land, shortening our forest lifeline 114 miles.

Orchards Planted Now Have Better Chance

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Orchard plantings made now or in January stand less chance of loss than those made later, although it is all right to plant fruit trees and grape vines any time during dormant season.

A home orchard can include peaches, plums, pears, bunch grapes, muscadine grapes, figs, persimmons, pecan, strawberries, boysenberries and blueberries.

It is generally best to order trees and vines from nurseries located in the South. Medium-size trees are best to plant, two to three feet for peaches, and plums three to four feet and pears, and four to five feet for pecans.

For an orchard site, choose a well-drained sand loam or loam soil with a deep, sandy clay subsoil. Both good soil drainage and air circulation are necessary for all kinds of fruits.

Prepare orchard soils by deep tilling and through disking before setting the trees. Construct wide terraces on land subject to erosion, and plant trees on the terraces and on contour lines between terraces.

When nursery stock is received, examine plants at once. Keep the roots moist and protected from sun, wind, heat and freezing.

In planting the trees, dig holes just large enough to hold the roots without bending or breaking. Set the trees about one inch deeper than they grew in the nursery.

A secret of preventing loss is to pack good top soil around the roots as the hole is filled. Do not place manure or commercial fertilizer in direct contact with the roots.

KEEPING PRACTICES FOR LARD

Good keeping quality is important for lard rendered on farms, since rancid lard is unsatisfactory for food.

Improve keeping quality by adding two to three pounds of hydrogenated vegetable shortening oil to 50 pounds of rendered lard. This means that about two pounds of oil is needed for each hog of around 250 pounds weight.

Several good commercial compounds for this purpose are found at most meat curing plants or farm supply stores.

The vegetable shortening can be added either just before the cracklings settle, or to melted lard in a storage container. Always stir well when adding.

Store rendered lard in clean containers of five to 50 pounds capacity. Fill container to the top, fit lid on tightly and store in a dark, cool place. Immediate chilling gives the lard a finer grain.

Rendering should be done as soon as fat is thoroughly chilled, preferably within 24 hours. Let the back fat and trimmings are usually rendered together. The caul and ruffle fat or internal organs yield a darker product.

For a high yield, cut fat into small pieces and run through a grinder, using a three-sixteenths inch plate. Start cooking slowly with a small amount of fat, and add the remainder after this begins to melt.

Do not fill the kettle too full. Stir often to prevent sticking, and do not let the temperature exceed 245 degrees Fahrenheit.

As rendering proceeds, cracklings will brown and float, then gradually sink when the job is complete. Do not let cracklings sink to the bottom and scorch.

RED CROSS NOTES

Approximately 30 veterans of the Gulfport V. A. Hospital mortuary to Bay St. Louis Tuesday, November 28, and were entertained by members of the Bay Central Parent-Teachers Association. They enjoyed the ping pong table and other forms of entertainment available.

Cold drinks, cookies, sandwiches and candy were served during the course of the afternoon. Those assisting Mrs. S. J. Mauffray, president, were Mrs. Nellie Nelson, Mrs. Gerald Favre, Mrs. Sam Whitfield and Mrs. Ernest Yates. This is a monthly form of entertainment afforded the veterans by the different organizations, through the Volunteer Services of the American Red Cross, Hancock Chapter.

AND THE GREATEST OF THESE IS

The love you felt for Joe—when he, confined to a Veterans Hospital, and with no funds of his own, wanted a simple thing like chewing tobacco. He is still receiving his weekly package and he is happy!

The love all of you expressed when you worked so hard many months ago to gather over 75 poinsettia plants for the hospitals. Today, these plants have increased to 500—each with four or five blooms. So—your love spreads and spreads.

Your thoughtfulness in providing batteries for Herbert's radio. Herbert is blind and he takes his radio everywhere he goes.

The punch and cakes for parties that please so many, the cigarettes, the magazines, the bingo prizes, the stamps, the candy, the birthday gifts, the sheet music, the off-post trips, the Victrola records, and many endless gifts you perform for lonely men in a hospital away from home—all evidence of your love and unselfish labor.

How do we KNOW LOVE is the greatest? Well, we know Joe and Herbert and Bill—and we know how much everything you do means to him. We see the light in his eyes, and his smile because you in the communities of South Mississippi remembered him—not just at Christmas—but every day!

We join them in saying thank you and we wish you the merriest Christmas ever!—The Field Directors.

The above is the Christmas letter from the Field Directors of the American Red Cross at the Veterans Hospitals on the Coast, and at Keesler Air Force Base, to the South Mississippi Volunteer Service Council.

Any persons in the community who are interested in sending any small Christmas gifts to the patients at these hospitals, may leave the gifts at the Red Cross Office on the Second Floor of the Court House, and they will be delivered to the Hospitals.

Such articles as bill folds, ties, belts, suspenders, toilet articles, cards, pipes, tobacco and pouches, cigarettes and cases, handkerchiefs, and socks, etc., are gift suggestions.

The South Mississippi Volunteer Service Council will meet at Keesler Field on Friday, December 8, 1950 at 10 A. M. Anyone is welcome to attend these meetings. Those interested should get in touch with Mrs. Leo W. Seal, president of the Council, phone 164. Transportation will be furnished.

Millsaps To Restore Its Wartime Program

Jackson—Because of the world situation, Millsaps College will restore its accelerated wartime program next semester, President Marion L. Smith announced today.

Although usually limited to an enrollment of 800, the college is prepared to make room for 100 additional students, he said. Provisions will be made for beginning freshmen and junior college transfers so that they will be able to take courses in proper sequence. The accelerated program makes graduation possible in three years.

The new Christian Center Building will be put into use this week, expending greatly the available classroom space. Sanders Hall, new women's dormitory will be finished by the end of the semester. This will relieve housing pressure, Dr. Smith said.

"Should the armed forces require the help of colleges in training men, Millsaps College is ready to do its part as it did in the last war," Dr. Smith added. The Methodist College had a Navy V-12 unit for more than two years during the World War II.

ber 8, 1950 at 10 A. M. Anyone is welcome to attend these meetings. Those interested should get in touch with Mrs. Leo W. Seal, president of the Council, phone 164. Transportation will be furnished.

Interest In Cure Of T B Continues

You may have noticed that despite all the acute interest today in cancer, heart disease, and polio, the "chronic" interest in tuberculosis has continued. Such an attitude of wariness reveals wisdom; for although control of tuberculosis is today much more effective than it has ever been, it is still the eighth highest cause of death in our state. This disease has for so long been prevalent that it is difficult to find anyone whose family has not been touched by it. Indeed, few families could be skipped entirely by a disease of which there are now 6,150 known cases in the state and an estimated 6,000 unreported cases.

In the nation as a whole, the death rate from tuberculosis has dropped almost 75 per cent since 1900. But still, in 1949 there were 38,000 people who died of this disease. In Mississippi alone, the death rate has been reduced about 77 per cent since 1913; but last year 581 Mississippians were killed by tuberculosis.

Playing an important role in reducing deaths from this disease and keeping all of us on the alert against it is the Tuberculosis Control Unit of the board of health. Created in 1946, this control unit intensified previous public health activities and now operates four mobile x-ray buses. The mass x-ray program resulted last year in detection of 1,300 new cases from the 302,218 x-rays made. The unit also emphasizes prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation.

Doing similar work is the Mississippi Tuberculosis Association, voluntary agency established around 1912 and, like other chapters of the National Association, deriving most of its funds from the annual sale of Christmas Seals. Few people realize how much is done with the money raised at this time each year through the sale of these Christmas Seals. Such funds paid for equipment for our four mobile buses and are spent throughout the year for film used in making x-rays. Your payments for Christmas Seals also make possible medical research by the National Tuberculosis Association and a variety of educational projects.

Modern methods of education, case-finding, and treatment have painted a much brighter picture of tuberculosis than there was twenty-five years ago—or ten years ago. Those of us who know the ways of this killer, however, know also that a slackening of interest, a decrease in our efforts could open the way for renewed onslaughts by tuberculosis.

Offer Cash Prizes For Wildlife Essay Poster

Cash prizes for the best article or essay and the best poster on some phase of wildlife conservation have been offered under the sponsorship of the State Game and Fish Commission according to an announcement from the Commission headquarters in Jackson.

Each year the several state departments of Mississippi, concerned with the conservation of natural resources, prepare a special program which is published by the State Department of Education, in cooperation with the other departments such as the Oil and Gas Board, the State Forestry Commission, the Geology Survey, the State Department of Agriculture and Commerce and the Game and Fish Commission.

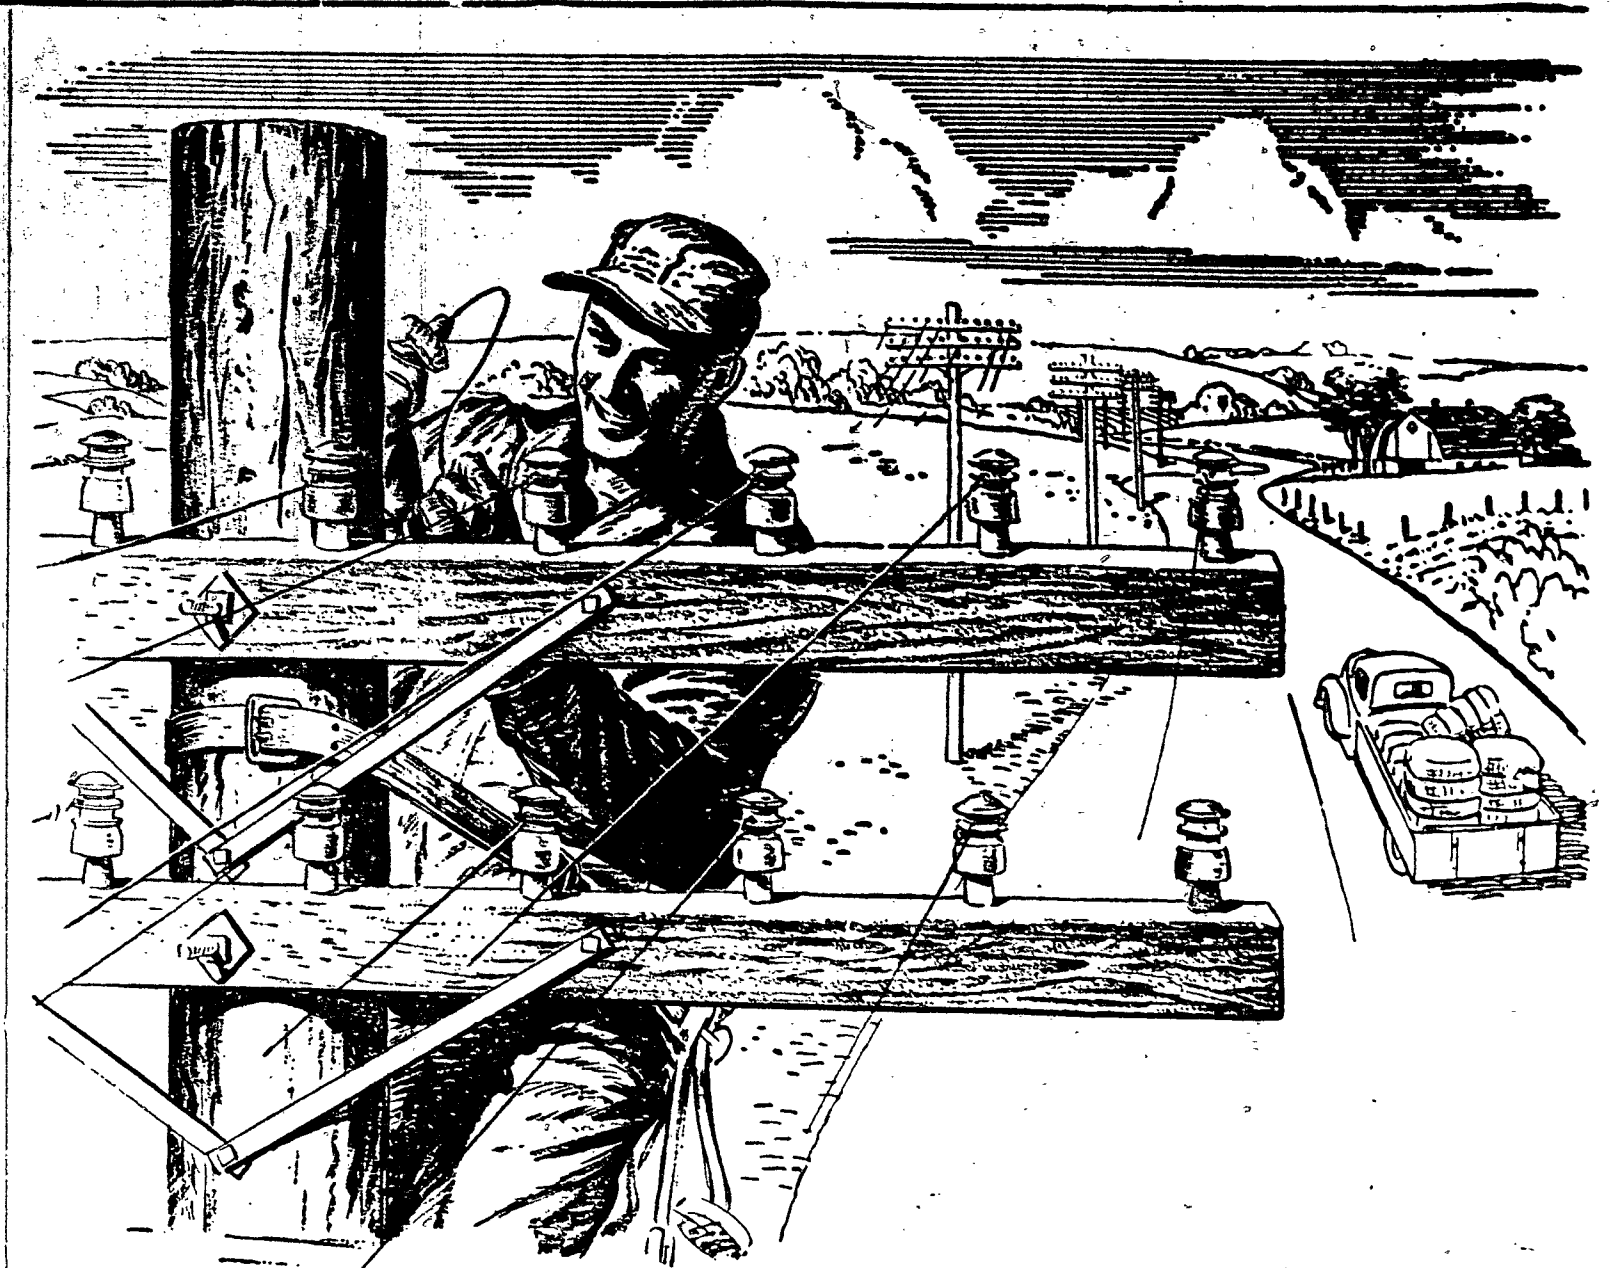

This year the Game and Fish commission has asked the school children of the state to assist in the preparation of posters presenting basic phases of wildlife conservation. Cash prizes will be awarded the winners. The contest opened December 4, which was the opening day of Conservation Week. It will close December 20 and the winners will be announced February 1, 1951.

Clyde Favre Assigned To Famed 5th Division

Camp Chaffee, Ark.—Clyde Albert Favre of Bay St. Louis has been assigned to the famed 5th Armored "Victory" Division which was recently reactivated at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

Commanded by Brigadier Gen. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, the 5th Armored Division is one of the most famous armored divisions of World War II. The division participated in the Normandy invasion in 1944 and fought through France and Germany with Gen. George Patton's Third Army.

The division was reactivated to train recruits from the South and Southwestern part of the United States.

Rural Telephone Projects Under Way in 66 Mississippi Counties

By far the biggest rural telephone expansion program in history is going on in Mississippi. In 66 of Mississippi's 82 counties a total of 110 separate line-building projects to serve 7,500 rural Mississippians are in various stages of engineering and construction. Complete new switching equipment is being installed in connection with several of these projects.

Since World War II, Southern Bell has spent approximately $7,000,000 for rural telephone expansion in Mississippi and right now we are building at an even faster rate of more than $200,000 a month.

We're moving right along with the big and expensive job of furnishing telephone service to more and more Mississippi farmers.

Parents Club Gives
Mother Xmas Check

A check for $250 was presented Mother Mary of the Rosary, principal of St. Joseph Academy, by the Parents Club Tuesday, December 5, for the annual Christmas offering.

Members of the Home Economics class, under the supervision of their instructor, Mrs. W. E. Bartram, presented a style show; they wore clothes made in class. Arrangements were completed to send a box for Christmas for each of the two orphans sponsored by the organization. An announcement was made that the teen-age club is accepting any toys new or old, to be delivered to the needy children at Christmas time.

The fourth grade won the attendance prize, and Mrs. Robert L. Camors won the door prize.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crasto and Mrs. Gertrude Saucier were co-hostesses. Hostesses for January will be Mrs. Paul Shallerross, Jr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Artigues.

Janet Luce Becomes Bride Of M. Bienvenu

Miss Mary Janet Luce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Luce of Pass Christian, became the bride of Milton Joseph Bienvenu Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bienvenu of Reserve, Louisiana, November 28, at St. Paul's Catholic Church.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized at 11 o'clock with Rev. J. P. McGlade officiating at the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of ivory satin fashioned in a traditional style; its illusion neckline and pointed sleeve tips were etched with heirloom lace. The flattering basque bodice with hand-spun waist was topped by a full gathered skirt whose flowing lines ended in a cathedral train. Her matching veil of silk illusion was full length and fell in folds from a Juliet cap of the same fabric sprinkled with appliques of the orchids and lilies of the valley.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's aunt, Miss Annie Pagano; she wore a creation of champagne lace over taffeta and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Misses Nan Jackson, Betty Colson, Mary Lou Scaffidi, Jackie Luce and Dolores Malini, all wore dresses of toast lace over taffeta with matching hats. Their bouquets were of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom's best man was his brother, Alden Bienvenu of Reserve; the groomsmen were Allen Oubre, Clarence J. Meyers Jr., George William Sword, Joseph Ranna Jr. and Charles Wither. Michael Pagano, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Ushers were Anthony Pagano and Anthony Brady.

Before and during the ceremony nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Lelia Courtenay at the organ. "Prayer Perfect" and "Ave Maria" were sung by Mayor Francis Hursey.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Henderson Point Road. Receiving with the bride party were Mrs. Luce, mother of the bride, who wore a brown crepe dress with black accessories and a white orchid corsage; and the groom's mother, who wore a blue-gray crepe gown with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

On the bride's table, which was laid with an imported English heirloom linen outwork cloth, the four tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was arranged. Garlands of white carnations, interspersed with queen's lace and fern, formed an edging for the table. On either side of the cake, tall silver candelabra held ivory lighted tapers; a nose-gay of carnations was tied to the candelabra with tulle and satin streamers.

The bride's cake was cut by Mrs. Margaret P. Gause, assisted by Misses Carol Mossey and Geri Martin.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada the former Odile Rauxet.

Mrs. James F. Taconi and Mrs. T. Wolfe motored into New Orleans this past weekend to visit their children.

Mrs. W. W. Weber returned home Sunday from Baptist hospital. Reports are that Mrs. Weber is recovering nicely.

Reports have been received that Ed Osbourne is much improved, and is able to get around in a wheel chair. He is being taught to walk again. His family hopes to have him home for Christmas if his condition continues to improve.

Darling Normand attended the Tulane-L. S. U. game in New Orleans Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Corley sold their home on DeMontluzin street and moved to New Iberia, Louisiana Wednesday to make their home. Mrs. Corley is Mrs. Horace Farr's sister.

Mrs. Edmond Fahey, Jr., who recently purchased the L. D. Corley home on DeMontluzin street moved in Wednesday.

MISS J. THARP REVIEWS PLAY

There was a representative group out Monday afternoon to hear Miss Jessie Tharp's reading of the three act play, "Another Language," by Rose Frankel.

The play is written about a middle class family of Manhattan, composed of a domineering wife, a meek husband and a family of children who are almost wrecked on the sea of hard unbreakable rules laid down by the mother.

A grandson, whose talent and taste lies in architecture, is told by his grandmother, Mrs. Hallum, that he must go into the factory which has been owned by the family for several generations.

He solves the situation by marrying his sister-in-law; light comes to the entire family, and they overthrow the tyrannical form of discipline and take their place in the world.

Miss Tharp, one of the founders of the New Orleans Little Theatre, was brought here by the mothers club of Christ Church school.

Tea was served following the reading. The tea table was decorated with a center arrangement of poinsettias, fern and tall silver candelabra holding lighted red candles.

family spent the past weekend in New Orleans visiting the Gene E. Little family. Saturday night they all attended the Shriner Circus.

A benefit picture show was given at the Clermont Harbor school Saturday night for the Clermont Harbor Children's Tree. Jules Schroth will have another show, Saturday, December 16, at 8:00 p. m. The proceeds will go toward the toy fund.

This is a worthy cause. Remember you were a tot yourself one time.

Dr. Lawrence Kern and family of Baton Rouge visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kern, Sr., at their home on Forrest street this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of New Orleans spent the past weekend at their home on Forrest and Second streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson and children, Peter Paul and Joy, spent last Saturday in New Orleans shopping; they also visited Santa Claus while there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Carrick spent the past weekend at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Mullen, in New Orleans.

Mrs. Birch Bankston, Jr. was accidentally burned Friday, December 1; she was rushed to the Kings Daughters hospital in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Bankston had filled a cigarette lighter; not knowing she had spilled the fluid on her hands she flipped the lighter. Her hands caught on fire and she brushed her hands on the flannel shirt she was wearing. It all went up in flames.

Mrs. Bankston rolled on a bath mat and extinguished the flames. She was reported much improved. She suffered second and third degree burns.

Spence Home Escapes Destruction By Fire

Mrs. Malcolm B. Green

If you have any news please leave it at the Post Office or in the paper box in front of Mrs. Green's home. Thanks.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Spence of Lakeshore narrowly escaped destruction by fire Tuesday morning. November 28. Fire from the surrounding forests was in the Spence yard when friends and neighbors formed a brigade. Men, women and children worked for three hours until the flames were extinguished. The Spences were not at home at the time the fire started, but arrived during the struggle. They wish to express their sincere thanks to all who worked so tirelessly to save their home.

The Lakeshore Civic Association held a special meeting last Tuesday night to discuss the necessity of purchasing three additional heaters for the Civic Hall. ## In Mississippi Oil Activity Continues

With eight new fields discovered so far this year to equal last year's mark, activity continues in Mississippi's expanding oil and gas industry with the possibility that before the year is over other fields may be brought in to set a new record for the state.

As of the middle of November, 18 wildcats were drilling in 11 counties with most of these being located in the southern half of the state.

Records of the State Oil and Gas Board show that so far this year 280 permits to drill for oil and gas have been issued, resulting in 109 successful completions, in proven fields and the discovery of 13 new fields.

During all of 1949 a total of 349 wells were drilled with 179 of these being completed as oil wells and 8 wildcats listed as discoveries.

Of the new fields discovered this year 7 have been oil fields and 1 a gas-condensate field. The 8 discovered last year included 6 oil fields and 2 gas-condensate fields.

Six of the new fields this year have been located in Adams county with Jefferson and Lincoln counties sharing honors with one new field each. Records show that Adams also leads in the number of permits issued with 90 permits having been issued to drill in that county alone.

Most of the Adams discoveries were in the semi-shallow Wilcox sand at approximately 6,000 feet while the gas-condensate strike and one of the oil fields were found in the deep Tuscaloosa sand below 10,000 feet.

The Jefferson county discovery was in the Wilcox sand at approximately 5,500 feet and the Lincoln discovery was below 10,000 feet.

Geophysical activity this year is about on a par with last year; however both years show a marked decrease from the record post-war peak set in 1948. The majority of the geophysical activity is being done by seismograph, gravity meter and core drill crews with some magnetometer crews operating.

STUDY REVEALS COST INVOLVED IN USE OF AMMONIA

Anhydrous Ammonia Found Cheaper Source of Nitrogen Than Solid Fertilizers in Use of Farms Large Enough to Use It Economically

State College, Miss.—Use of anhydrous ammonia may save 2 to 3 cents per pound of nitrogen applied on a 400-acre farm, a study recently published by the Mississippi Experiment Station and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reveals.

A new circular, "An Economic Appraisal of Anhydrous Ammonia," by James P. Gaines and Grady B. Crows provides details of the cost study. The publication, Circular 152, is available on request at the Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Mississippi.

Major findings and conclusions of the study are: The use of 18,000- and 30,000-gallon storage tanks, thereby allowing purchases of ammonia in carlots, cheapens per unit costs when large quantities of ammonia are used. As a general rule, the larger the tank, the more economical is the storage, assuming that all tanks are used to capacity.

On farms fertilizing 75 acres or more, four-row application equipment is the most economical size, while on farms fertilizing less than 75 acres, two-row application equipment is cheaper.

The average cost of using ammonia on farms included in the field survey was 10.2 cents per pound of nitrogen used. Purchase price alone of ammonia nitrate was 11.5 cents per pound of nitrogen. On these farms ammonia was a considerably cheaper source of nitrogen than any of the solid fertilizers used in 1949. A farm must fertilize 50 acres or more to apply ammonia economically with owned equipment, at 1949 price relationships, the study indicates. Custom application is a possibility for farmers who do not own ammonia storage and application equipment.

Difficulties encountered in sealing ammonia in heavy soils preclude complete conversion to that fertilizer in the Delta at present. However, research directed toward the solution of the problem is being conducted at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station.

28 FORAGE SPECIES TESTED AS RANGE IMPROVEMENT PLANTS

State College, Miss. — Sericea lespedeza and big trefoil have shown most promise among 28 forage plants tested for growth under South Mississippi forest range conditions. This is the report of Agronomist Henry A. Johnson after three years of test work at the McNeill Experiment Forest at McNeill, Mississippi.

Typical piney woods land was used for the tests which were conducted jointly by the Mississippi Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. All plots were burned over before seeding.

Other species which show some promise and on which further tests are being conducted are bahia grass, carpet grass, African bluegrass, Dallis grass, alsike clover, and Louisiana white clover. Hairy indigo and lance crotonaria are promising summer annuals which make excellent growth the first year but more information is needed on their use for grazing and the maintenance of stands by reseeding. The remainder of the species in the test did not appear to be adapted for range improvement.

Without fertilizer all legumes failed. Of the grasses, carpet grass, bahia grass, and African bluegrass show some possibilities on unfertilized but disked land by their persistence and some increased growth over the three-year period. Original stands of African bluegrass were poor but there has been a gradual thickening of stands by reseeding; this grass appears to be succulent over a considerably longer period than the common native grasses.

Without disking all grasses failed to become established. These results, however, were obtained under ungrazed conditions; in tests conducted at several other stations in the Southeast there are indications that some grasses may become established without tillage under grazing treatment.

For range reseeding purposes, treatment costs and the effect of range improvement practices on timber production are of primary concern. Sericea lespedeza and big trefoil appear to be most nearly suited for range improvement.

Both species are long-lived and have remained vigorous in the tests for three years. Both species are easily established on a seedbed prepared only by burning the forest litter. Big trefoil has been established successfully using a rate of 3 pounds per acre and seeding from October 15 to December 15 whenever the ground was moist; Sericea lespedeza has been seeded from February 25 to March 15 using a rate of 30 pounds per acre.

Social Security to Be Given For The Household Help

George J. Shoeneman, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and Arthur J. Altmyer, Commissioner of Social Security, today released details of simplified forms and procedure which have been devised under the new law which extends Social Security benefits and taxes to an estimated 1,000,000 household workers, beginning January 1, 1951.

Since many of the employers of these workers are housewives and other persons who may be inexperienced in tax procedures, the Commissioners explained that every effort had been made to streamline the form and procedures. The form (Form 942, entitled "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees") is printed on the back of a return envelope for convenience in mailing by employers. The wording of the form has been stripped to bare essentials, and requires a minimum of entries by employers. Ordinarily, the form will be delivered to the employer with his name and address already stamped in, so that all he will have to fill in will be: (a) the name, Social Security account number, and wages of each household employee who is covered by the new law, and (b) the combined employer-employee taxes due, which total 3 percent of the taxable wages paid during the quarter.

The principal steps in putting the plan for household employee coverage into effect are as follows: 1. STARTING MAILING LISTS.—All household employers who have one or more employees who are expected to be covered by the new law will be asked to send their names and addresses to the Collector of Internal Revenue in their districts. An attractive leaflet, entitled "Do You Have a Maid?" has been provided to explain which employees are covered, and includes a postcard for the convenience of employers in sending in their names and addresses to be put on the official mailing lists, which will be used in sending out further information and forms. These leaflets are now available at local offices of the Collectors of Internal Revenue and the Social Security Administration, and in many post offices. Many prominent women's organizations are cooperating in distributing this information, and frequent radio and press announcements will also be made so that household employers will be advised of the importance of sending in their names and addresses to the Collectors for this purpose.

2. INFORMATION CIRCULAR.—Each household employer who sends in his name will receive, later this year, a brief pamphlet of official information about how the new law applies, and how to make quarterly returns. This publication is designated as "Circular H" and is entitled "Household Employer's Social Security Tax Guide." In concise, understandable terms, the pamphlet should answer most questions that a household employer might have about which employees are covered, and how, when, and where to pay the tax. It contains a filled-in sample form to demonstrate how quarterly returns are made, and also has a simple table showing how much tax to deduct from employee wages without the necessity of computing 1½ percent.

3. Quarterly Returns.—The first return forms will be sent to all household employers on the official mailing list towards the end of next March, and every three months thereafter. Commissioner Shoeneman explained that officials of both agencies have been continuously at work ever since the new law was passed to incorporate the best experience of business, government, printing, and envelope-making in the preparation of a simple return for household employers.

One of the important features of the new plan, Commissioner Shoeneman said, is a further simplification for those household employers who own businesses and are already filing the regular quarterly returns (Form 941) for business employees. In these cases, employers will be permitted to add their household employees to their regular quarterly returns and dispense with the special forms.

Although the new law will cover an estimated 1,000,000 household employees, Commissioner Shoeneman also explained that, in most cases, it will apply only to the 2-day-a-week (or more often) maid or other household employee, and will not apply to persons hired only for an occasional few hours or days.

"Be Exact," he added, "the law applies only to the wages of a household employee who is paid $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter (such as January, February, and March), and who works on at least 24 different days in that quarter, or on at least 24 different days in the preceding quarter."

"The law never applies in any case where a household employee is paid less than $50 cash wages in a quarter regardless of how many days he or she worked. Also the law never applies unless an employee works for the same employer on at least 24 days in either the current quarter, or the quarter which immediately preceded it, regardless of how much the wages are."

"In other words, there is a double test in the law. We call it the $50-24 day test." Congress designed it so that the system will apply only to the more or less regular employee, and employers will find it very carefully described, with example, in Circular H, and briefly repeated on other forms. Employers should have no real difficulty with it, but anyone having any questions is invited to inquire at any of the local offices of the Collectors of Internal Revenue or of the Social Security Administration.

ers in small businesses now have only one employee, and successfully use the quarterly report form in maintaining social security records. It has not been exclusively a big business proposition, then, in any sense of the word."

The new report form, condensed into a few lines on a return envelope, specially designed for the housewife, is simply a logical adaptation of a system proved through long experience. The designers have eliminated the preparation of duplicate copies, reference to "fine print" applications which might be burdensome or confusing to a housewife unused to business routines, regulations, and all other complications.

Arthur J. Altmyer, Commissioner of Social Security said: "From the beginning, when it became apparent that Congress was going to provide the much-needed protection of old-age and survivors insurance to the household worker, both Internal Revenue and the Social Security Administration have been deeply concerned with making the new program represent the least possible chore to the household employer and employee alike. Before us was the tested and proved quarterly report system, which has been in operation for 14 years among several million employers, with a high degree of accuracy and no confusion. It was found that more than 750,000 employers in small businesses now have only one employee, and successfully use the quarterly report form in maintaining social security records. It has not been exclusively a big business proposition, then, in any sense of the word."

The new report form, condensed into a few lines on a return envelope, specially designed for the housewife, is simply a logical adaptation of a system proved through long experience. The designers have eliminated the preparation of duplicate copies, reference to "fine print" applications which might be burdensome or confusing to a housewife unused to business routines, regulations, and all other complications.

We are now equipped with a large dragline for digging Canals, etc.
